

The Spirit Disciple

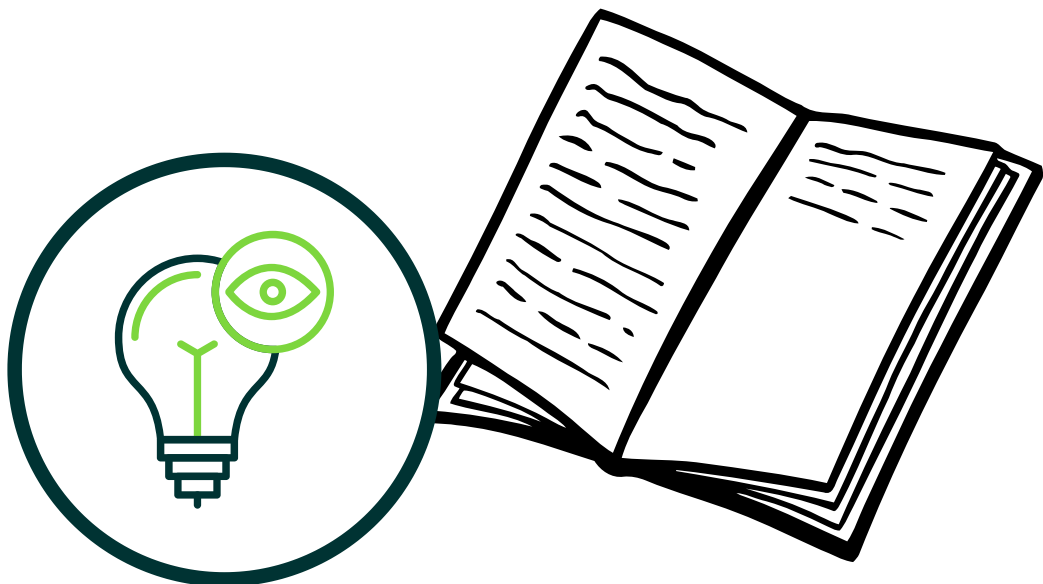

IN FOCUS

In Focus is a valuable tool that can assist you in achieving your life's goals by keeping them within your line of sight. Your aspirations can become more achievable, and once you've accomplished them, you'll be even more motivated to strive for an even higher level of success with guidance from the Spirit. Those often referred to as overachievers know the secret to getting more out of life, "Spiritual connection." Interestingly, there isn't much difference between individuals who settle for mediocrity and those who excel; they both likely have similar routines. However, one person only achieves a little while the other reaches higher because they have different end goals. What one person may consider settling for less may be a significant accomplishment for another. People often spend too much time worrying about what others do with their lives instead of focusing on their spiritual bond. In reality, there's a reality show taking place in the mirror, waiting for us to pay attention to it. It's essential to become familiar with the sitcom in the mirror before we waste time trying to be a part of someone else's story. The truth is that their world is not our world. Envy and jealousy will never lead us to success, but our accomplishments will. The next time you catch yourself daydreaming about anything unrelated to your goals, snap out of it and get back to working towards them. Success is achieved by clearly focusing on each step of your plan and connecting with the Spirit, allowing you to reach your end goal as quickly as possible.

Adjusting The View

When beginning your journey toward achieving your goals, the key is to start with a clear and concise vision of what you want to accomplish. First, take the time to visualize your desired outcome, whether it comes to you in a dream or during a quiet moment of reflection. Once you have this vision in your mind, capturing it in a way that works for you is essential. Try writing it down in a journal, recording it on your phone, or drawing it in a sketchbook. Another effective way to document your vision is by creating a vision board to track your progress and identify potential diversions or obstacles. Consider adjusting the view, if necessary, when observing your board. By taking the time to document your vision, you'll build trust in your intuition and gain the confidence needed to achieve your goals. So, don't be afraid to dream big and capture your thoughts and visions. Becoming a visionary with spiritual guidance produces the most powerful tool for success.

The Plan Of Action

When an individual has a crystal-clear vision of what they want to achieve and the unwavering determination to pursue it, the next step is creating a detailed action plan and working towards their goal without delay. However, only some people are familiar with the concept of the universal life force, which is the driving factor that compels us to create from the Spirit of God. The science of potential and kinetic energy best explains the use of universal life force in us.

In the potential energy phase, individuals possess a vision the Spirit gives and believe in its possibilities. But they move into the kinetic energy phase only when they take action and step out on faith. Being on a specific energetic force is crucial to align with your goals and witnessing a movement. The Spirit will discover your desires to connect you with your end goal. Without such alignment, individuals may be unable to tap into their higher potential and may lack the drive to achieve their goals.

Only by having a detailed plan of action and taking immediate steps towards working on it can individuals set the manifestation process in motion, driven by their unwavering determination. Boosting one's confidence and maintaining a relentless attitude can help overcome fears and uncertainties while achieving the end goal. Therefore, aligning oneself with the universal life force, "The Spirit," and working towards a clearly defined plan to achieve success is vital.

The Perfect Team

In the face of challenges, it's essential to be prepared and equipped with the right resources to overcome obstacles. As a visionary, gathering a competent group that shares your vision and understands your action plan is crucial. The Spirit will assist you in making the proper choices. Each team member should have access to the necessary training and education to perform their duties efficiently and effectively.

Creating a network of reliable, skilled individuals who can work together seamlessly is vital to success. After everyone has been trained and educated on their tasks, each team member should complete their assignment before engaging with the next person for review and advancement, ensuring efficient and effective workflow. Outsourcing may be necessary if your current team is insufficient; however, conducting thorough research beforehand ensures you partner with reputable and reliable people or organizations. Remember that achieving your goals requires spiritual discernment, careful planning, training, and teamwork - all essential for hand-to-hand combat to be effective. The next phase will be the most challenging; get ready!

Distortion Of View

During hand-to-hand combat, you may get a distorted view from your lens due to unforeseen factors. Other spiritual forces are looking to attack you and your team. Demonic forces may corrupt people on your team and cause them to mishandle their assignments, bring confusion, or start arguments. The deception from others may disrupt the picture of your goals. Understand that the problem is not with them; it's a spiritual battle. When you connect spiritually with God, obstacles might come your way to test your toughness. These tests will bring friction and discouragement and cause your faith to weaken if you're not careful. Don't engage with the people on your team with negativity or anger. Pray with sincere conviction that "This too shall pass," and watch for the signs of things starting to turn in your favor. Spiritual battles are routine and necessary for growth. Keep your faith and focus on the Spirit to make a way; keep pushing!

Back In Focus

During the snapshot phase, where the visions happen, it's essential to document everything in case of diversions. Should any unforeseen diversions occur, it is crucial to remain steadfast and on the course so that your documentation can show your unwavering focus and determination. Many individuals set lofty goals for themselves and begin working towards them with great enthusiasm. However, they often become overwhelmed and cannot take the necessary steps to get "Back In Focus." No worries, help is on the way! You can always rely on the Spirit to offer clear and unbiased guidance.

Having a well-defined action plan and a supportive team is essential. Never hesitate to seek help from others when the going gets tough, as a true friend will always be eager to see you succeed. If you're feeling overwhelmed, take a moment to meditate on your ultimate end goal. You can also consult with the Spirit to help regain your focus. Reaffirm that it is possible to maintain a strong sense of direction with a clear vision. It is vital to remain spiritually connected and focused on your goals, even in adversity. You are a powerful creator who can move mountains! Each setback you encounter is another step toward strengthening your spirituality and achieving your ultimate victory, maintaining your bond with God, who blesses all your desires.

The Growth

Welcome to the exciting part of your lesson, where all the knowledge and skills you've acquired thus far come together to help you achieve your goals. As you engage in activities and consistently hone your skills, you will notice a marked improvement in your abilities. Notice the boost of your self-assurance and strengthening of your thought processes, resulting in more lucid visions and heightened clarity of mind. As your mental sharpness increases, you will be motivated to step out on faith and accomplish your next goal. Your action plan becomes streamlined and efficient as you continue to learn and implement different strategies to complete tasks. In turn, it helps you to achieve your goals more quickly and effectively. In addition, as you take on more projects, you will gradually witness your connections and acquaintances grow, offering you a more comprehensive range of opportunities and support to take advantage of.

However, along the way, you may encounter obstacles and setbacks that test your commitment to your goals and beliefs. Trusting "The Spirit" and your abilities during these times is essential, as this is crucial to strengthening your mental focus and determination. Straying away from your end goal because of setbacks or unexpected challenges will weaken your connection with the Spirit providing your confidence. Therefore, maintaining your spiritual relationship is vital to intensifying your willingness to achieve your goals successfully.

Don't Stop

The View

Congratulations on reaching your goal! What an incredible achievement that you should be immensely proud of! It is essential to take some time to reflect on your journey and the hard work that you put in to make this a reality. Here's an excellent opportunity to appreciate the view from the top of your mountain and reflect on the vision that led you there. Think about the people who supported you along the way and the obstacles that you overcame. You remained focused and determined even when things got tough, which is a testament to your strength and resilience. Be grateful for your accomplishments and celebrate your most prosperous ally, "The Spirit!" Remember, "You are a master at turning your desires into reality with the power of your mind;" your achievements prove that. Keep up the great work, and continue striving for excellence in everything you do.
